

Want to make Sense of it all?

Your Centre

GameSense Info Centres are convenient kiosks where you can find a variety of resources and strategy suggestions intended to make gambling safer and keep it fun. Centres are found at all casinos and community gaming centres across British Columbia.

Depending on which gaming facility you visit, GameSense Info Centres may be completely interactive where you can explore information on your own, or you may find a friendly and knowledgeable GameSense Advisor to guide you through the many resources available.

Your Services

The decision to gamble is a personal choice. GameSense is all about making it an informed choice. Everything you need to know about how to play the games, odds of winning and losing, randomness and house advantage is available at the Centres. There is also information about the risks associated with gambling and the free, confidential support services that can be accessed if gambling is no longer fun.

GameSense Info Centres offer a wide range of interactive learning tools:

- Test your knowledge on the touch screen terminal
- Learn the inner workings of a slot machine
- Check out some specialized web sites, or
- Simply pick up an informational brochure

Your Guide

GameSense Info Centres located at casinos are staffed by GameSense Advisors, professionals trained in approaches to keeping gambling safe and fun.

- Do you have a question about the odds of winning your favourite game?
- Are you wondering if you can really impact your chances of winning with a lucky charm?

GameSense Advisors will answer any question you may have about some of the common misperceptions about gambling and other related topics.

They are also skilled in responding to customers experiencing problems with gambling and provide referrals to free professional counselling services or information about BCLC's voluntary self-exclusion program.
